

JOSKIN offers a new covering system, the "Duo-Cover", which is available on all Silo-Space silage trailers and Drakkar multi-purpose trailers.

This option effectively prevents silage from falling during transport.

Indeed, silage loss means money loss. But it can also create problems when falling on public roads.

The Duo-Cover provides a practical and easy solution thanks to two nets, one on each side of the body, which cover the dome.

When closing, they overlap in order to avoid any loss during transport.

The Duo-Cover is compact, light and represents a cost effective alternative.

Another specific advantage of this device is that it can be directly mounted on extensions.

Each side can rotate by 270° thanks to two hydraulic motors that are either activated through an electro-hydraulic control or with direct connection to the tractor.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IWwj_wKkWUE

Non contractual data, likely to change.